Growth Drives Engle Martin & Associates, Inc. to Add Jay T. Campbell to Management Team as Executive Vice President of Operations

ATLANTA (April 10, 2009) – Engle Martin & Associates, Inc., a national insurance adjusting and claims administration firm, today announced the appointment of Jay T. Campbell to serve in the newly created role of executive vice president of operations at the company's corporate headquarters in Atlanta.

Campbell joins the Engle Martin executive management team as the company continues to strengthen operations in order to facilitate the company's significant growth planned for the next few years.

"The hiring of Jay is consistent with our aggressive growth strategy that has us well positioned to double the size of our company over the next three to five years," says Kevin L. Engle, chief executive officer. "The adjusting and TPA sectors continue to be fragmented and the ability to grow is tied to providing exceptional service to our clients in these areas. Engle Martin is well positioned to take advantage of this and execute our clear vision to achieve significant growth."

"The addition of Jay strengthens our management team and enhances our ability to deliver value to our clients," says John Quinn, president and chief operating officer. "We look forward to leveraging his significant experience as we continue to expand Engle Martin's presence in the marketplace."

Since 1993, Campbell has served in a variety of senior level positions with Crawford & Company, a global provider of claims management services. Most recently he was vice president and director of operations overseeing the Field Operations and Catastrophe Services divisions. Campbell also served Crawford in diverse disciplines, including strategic planning, budgeting and financial analysis, organizational design, process improvement, and technology design and implementation. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in business management from the University of Alabama at Birmingham.

"It is an honor to join the Engle Martin family," says Campbell. "I plan to use my experience to drive the company's growth strategy and vision of being an industry leader in servicing the adjusting and third party administrator segments in which Engle Martin competes."

Campbell is the fifth member of Engle Martin's executive management team, which includes Kevin L. Engle, CEO; John J. Quinn, president and COO; W. Todd Evans, executive vice president - business development; and Bob Gambell, executive vice president – EMCAS, Engle Martin Claims and Administration Services and Casualty Operations.
