Engle Martin Expands into Austin and Detroit Company's Strategic Yet Aggressive Growth Continues

ATLANTA, June 25, 2009 – Engle Martin & Associates, a national insurance adjusting and claims administration firm, has opened new offices in both Austin, TX and Detroit, MI during the month of June.

According to Kevin Engle, chairman & CEO, “We pride ourselves on providing the highest level of service regardless of the time of day or day of the week a claim is reported. These new offices enable us to better ensure that level of responsiveness.”

These two cities are small steps in Engle Martin's aggressive growth strategy to double the size of the company in the next three to five years. Says John Quinn, president & COO, “As a privately-held company, Engle Martin is unique in our ability to expand while remaining focused on our philosophy of client-centric service, commitment to lowering client loss costs and unparalleled professionalism.”

Dean Hengst, property adjuster, relocated to Austin after eight months at the Engle Martin office in Houston. Before joining Engle Martin, Hengst worked for three years as a claims adjuster with a national insurance carrier handling property, auto and bodily injury claims. “In Austin, I work closely with our Houston and Dallas locations to fully cover claims in Texas any time, anywhere,” says Hengst.

Justin Miles joins Engle Martin as a senior property adjuster based in Detroit. Miles began his career as an insurance re-construction contractor then worked for two different independent adjusting companies specializing in commercial losses, construction and storm damage claims, including work resulting from Hurricane Katrina. “I am pleased to be a part of the growth of Engle Martin & Associates into the Detroit market. My goal is to provide the most timely, consistent and accurate adjusting services not only for existing clients, but also for future opportunities within the area as well,” says Miles.
